Construction Law Group

Strong & Hanni's Construction Law Group understands that construction is a unique and complex business. It requires resources, knowledge, and skill beyond the scope of the average commercial enterprise. In addition to laws governing all businesses, the construction industry is subject to a host of additional laws, statutes, rules, and regulations unique to the construction industry. Some are well-known, but many are obscure, often misunderstood, and may have costly and disruptive consequences.

The attorneys in our Construction Law Group provide a full range of legal services to the construction industry, including contractors, owners, subcontractors, engineers, architects, insurance and surety companies, commercial and residential developers, public entities, and equipment and material suppliers.

We have extensive experience in a wide variety of construction related matters such as contract formation, project documentation, bid disputes, construction contract claims, construction risk management and preventative law, payment issues, construction and design defect law, lien, bond and surety law, complex multi-party construction litigation, tort liability, worksite injuries, and dispute resolution.

Our construction law attorneys are actively involved in a number of construction industry associations. These include the Associated General Contractors, Associated Builders and Contractors, and the Defense Research Institute's Construction Defect Committee. Our attorneys also lecture on a variety of construction law topics at industry and private seminars.

There has never been a greater need for the construction industry to work from a solid legal foundation. Strong & Hanni's Construction Law Group is ready to assist you in building that foundation with services responsive to your needs.
